DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of figs. 27-33, 34-42, claims 1-4, 6, 7, 9-17, 19, 21, 23-32 in the reply filed on 12/14/05 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim(s) 13, 14, 15, 16 fail(s) to recite sufficient structural elements and interconnection of the elements to positively position and define : 1) how the recess receives the signage member (claim 13); 2) how the tabs and channel hold the signage in place; 3) so that an integral structure able to function as claimed is recited.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-4, 6, 7, 9-17, 19, 21, 23-32 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over the claims of U.S. Patent No. 6,408,768. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both claims teach an adjustable pallet guard.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-4, 9, 27-29, 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mason ('086). The patent to Mason teaches structure substantially as claimed including a plurality of modular guard sections (22), joint the only difference being that the cross sectional shape is not wedge or triangular in shape. However, the use of particular shapes to increase or decrease rigidity is a well known feature in engineering mechanics. To use such knowledge to apply such shapes in the same well known manner would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art, thereby providing structure as claimed.

Claims 6, 12, 17, 19, 23, 24, 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mason ('086) as applied to the claims above, and further in view of Giorgio. The patent to Mason teaches structure substantially as claimed as discussed above including guard section, the only difference being that the section does not include signage. However, the patent to Giorgio teaches the use of providing signage in a guard member to be old. It would have been obvious and well within the level of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention was made to modify the structure of Mason to include signage, as taught by Giorgio since such structures are conventional alternative structures used in the same intended purpose thereby providing structure as claimed.

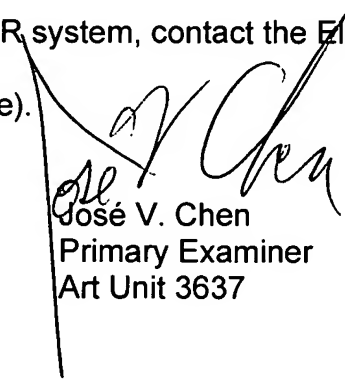

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The patents to Ravet et al, Flanagan et al teach structure similar to applicant's.
